Shandelee Music Festival Founder Receives Gift from World-famous Musician

SHANDELEE, NY - On the eve of launching her 40th anniversary world tour, world-class violinist Midori learned that her friend

Daniel Stroup, Founding President of the Shandelee Music Festival, was retiring from his 38-year job with the United Nations International School (UNIS).

Midori decided to gift her friend with a special concert.

Visionary artist Midori is an activist and educator, marking the 40th anniversary of her professional debut with the New York Philharmonic at 11 years old.

Her concert venues read like a world atlas, having performed with the London, Chicago, and San Francisco Symphony Orchestras, the Berlin and Vienna Philharmonics, the Mahler Chamber Orchestra, and Festival Strings Lucerne.

The anniversary tour will include concerts in Chicago, Washington, DC, Seattle, Vancouver and San Francisco, and a solo recital return to Carnegie Hall. Midori will also appear with the Boston and National Symphony Orchestras, the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra, Erie Philharmonic, Toledo Symphony and Glacier Symphony (in Montana).

Other concerts will follow in Hamburg, London, Dresden and Bon. Among her many honors, Midori was awarded the Asian Cultural Council's John D. Rockefeller 3rd Award, the Brahms Prize and a Kennedy Center Honor in 2021. She serves as a UN Messenger of Peace.

Daniel Stroup's life has always been focused on music, studying in his hometown of Portland, Oregon, then New York under scholarship at the Manhattan School of Music. He earned his Master of Music Degree in 1989, and performed in the Far East, Europe, Hong Kong, and Alice Tully Hall in Lincoln Center. (Contd. Pg. 8)

State Giving Sullivan $100,000 to Create a Bicycle/Pedestrian Plan

Monticello, NY - Sullivan County is getting $100,000 to develop a biking/walking plan, State officials just announced.

"In order to boost our health ranking and make our communities more attractive and vibrant, we asked the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation to consider us for a Climate Smart Communities Grant, and I'm delighted that they agreed to fund the creation of a bicycle/pedestrian plan," Sullivan County Planning Commissioner Freda Eisenberg said.

The plan will focus on improving the safety, comfort and convenience of walking and biking paths in local downtowns and along major transportation corridors. Particular attention will be paid to:

- Connecting people to work, school, shopping and essential services destinations
- Ensuring access for people with disabilities

Anniversary wishes go to Linda and Ed Donnelly on their 20th year. Congratulations!

State Giving Sullivan $100,000 to Create a Bicycle/Pedestrian Plan

• Seeking guidance from underserved and disadvantaged communities

• Creating alternative modes of transportation that can help reduce greenhouse gas emissions

"We have several compelling reasons for dedicating funding to this important effort," noted Eisenberg. "Sullivan County's motor vehicle-related mortality rate is nearly triple that of the entire State, and our health rankings are already near the bottom for all counties in New York. In addition to promoting health and wellness, this plan can help address the needs of those without a vehicle of their own. For example, 18% of Monticello households don't have a car, meaning they need safe and convenient places to walk and bike."

"These paths also route more wealth and opportunity into communities," explained Deputy Planning Commissioner Heather Brown, whose Office of Sustainable Energy played a key role in the grant application. "Research has shown positive correlations between improved walkability and increased retail activity, job creation and real estate values."

Sullivan County is one of only 25 municipalities Statewide to be awarded a Climate Smart Communities grants in this latest round.

"The significant funding under New York's Climate Smart Communities Program is critical in supporting local efforts to protect residents and infrastructure from the effects of climate change," Governor Kathy Hochul said. "We continue to see increasingly extreme weather each year, and these grants help empower locally-driven, bold action to help meet New York's ambitious climate goals while setting an example for other municipalities to follow."

Established in 2016, the Climate Smart Communities Grant Program is a competitive 50/50 matching grant program for municipalities to implement projects focused on climate change adaptation and greenhouse gas mitigation. Project types also include certain planning and assessment projects that are part of a strategy to achieve Climate Smart Communities certification.

Of the total grant funds awarded this round under the implementation and certification categories respectively, 36 percent was awarded to implementation projects located in disadvantaged communities that face a disproportionate burden of environmental pollution, and 66 percent was awarded to certification projects by municipalities that contain a disadvantaged community, as identified by the Climate Justice Working Group.

Household Hint: Clean a Dirty Thermos

To get a thermos bottle clean, fill it with warm water and 1/4 cup white vinegar. If you see any residue, add some uncooked rice, which will act as an abrasive to scrape it off. Close and shake well. Then rinse and let it air-dry.

Very Berry Wintergreen!

If you are taking advantage of the weather and getting our for a walk in the forest, there is one more evergreen you may come across. Not quite as noticeable as a fir tree, fern or moss –it is Wintergreen, a crawling rhizomatous shrublet that creeps along the ground. This tiny aromatic evergreen is a scant four to six inches tall and spreads only about four inches annually by stolons (a creeping horizontal plant stem or runner that takes root along its length to make new plants) making this little plant ideal for a dish garden.

Several genera contain species known as wintergreen often are referred to as Christmas Wintergreen, Chimaphila, Gaultheria, Polygala, Pyrola, or Trientalis.

The leaves of the wintergreen are scalloped or bristly toothed, glossy and dark green with a strong wintergreen scent when crushed. They are alternate, simple, evergreen, oval to elliptical, and are 1 to 2 inches long. Leaves appear whorled since they cluster at tips of plant. The leaves are dark shiny green above, and much paler below often with black dots. Urn-shaped white or pale pink flowers appear in summer and mature to aromatic scarlet fruit that often persists into the following spring if it is not eaten by a bear, birds, squirrel, chipmunks, deer mice, grouse, partridges, bobwhites, turkeys, or a red fox in emergency.

Wintergreen berries were used medicinally by the Native Americans to alleviate rheumatic symptoms, headache, fever, and various aches and pains.

The Ojibwa Indians called it Winisbugons, usually translated "Dirty Leaf" but perhaps better translated "Leaf in the Bog". The French in Quebec gave it the poetic name la Petit te du bois –"The Little Tea of the Woods." Throughout its extensive range it has gained a number of regional names: Box Berry, Canadian Mint, Checkerberry, Deerberry, Leatherleaf, Ground-tea or Groundberry, Hillberry, Mountainberry, Patridgeberry, Spiceberry, or Teaberry. Perhaps you may remember when wintergreen found its way into chewing gum that was appropriately called "Teaberry Gum".

Today, Wintergreen is still a common flavoring in American products ranging from chewing gum, mints and candies. It is also a common flavoring for dental hygiene products such as mouthwash and toothpaste, and is used in medicines such as Pepto Bismol®.

For the artist, wintergreen oil can be used in fine art printing applications when transferring a color photocopy image or color laser print to a high-rag content art paper, such as a hot-press watercolor paper.

One surprising use for Wintergreen oil is rust removal and degreasing of machinery. Wintergreen is particularly effective for breaking through seawater corrosion.

Wintergreen is native in much of eastern North America and throughout the Catskills, and is cultivated beyond that area wherever conditions permit. It is prized mostly as an ornamental plant. Relatively few people use it today as an edible, or medicinally. A word of CAUTION: about 1 fl oz) of oil of wintergreen is equivalent to 55.7 g of aspirin, or about 171 adult aspirin tablets (US). This conversion illustrates the potency and potential toxicity of oil of wintergreen even if ingested in small quantities.

Wintergreen, that festive little plant that can brighten up even the dark dreary days of winter may be creeping around your back yard just waiting to be discovered. If you happen to be out in a woodsy area, look for a few cheery bright red berries on a little crawling Wintergreen plant.

News from your Town of Neversink Parks & Rec

Our Community Ice Rink is a great success this year. We are seeing lots of skaters, new and old, visiting the rink. Many of these folks are not only new to skating but new to our community. So we welcome them to the rink with bladed skates and we welcome them to our Town of Neversink with open arms!

Friday, January 20 from 7 pm-9pm we will have our Disco Nite at the Community Ice Rink. We'll have the rink decked out in disco lights---and what would a disco nite be without DISCO MUSIC!!! So come on down to the rink and have some old-fashioned disco fun! And as a reminder, the rink is open every Tuesday & Thursday from 7pm-9-pm, Saturday 1pm-3pm & 7pm-9pm and Sundays 1pm -5pm. Check our Facebook page for more info on Disco Nite and for any closures to the rink due to weather conditions.

And a final note on the ice rink----we are in dire need of larger size skates (sizes 10 thru 13). So if anyone has any larger size skates they want to get rid of please donate them to the ice rink. One thing we are really in need of is LARGER SIZE SKATES! Donations can be dropped off at Town Hall. We appreciate any donations you may have for your Community Ice Rink.

So everyone is buzzing about our 2nd Annual Winterfest-WINTERFEST 2023! This year's Winterfest is scheduled for Saturday, February 4th from 11am until 4 pm (with a weather reschedule date of Saturday, February 11th). We will have lots of vendors selling their wares, food and beverage (non-alcoholic) provided by our Tri-Valley Little League and Bear Cub Basketball organizations, the Roadhouse Rolling Bar beer and wine garden providing other libations, and What's Poppin with their incredible popcorn! Jesse Noren and Shane Rennison will be sharing their musical talents with us. Our Kids Craft area will be open again this year and if weather permits we will have a Snowman Building contest, sledding and even snowshoeing around the fairgrounds. Of course the Ice Rink will be open through out the event. So come join us at Winterfest 2023. ITS FREE TO ATTEND! And if you would like a vendor space, please let me know at cwparksandrec@gmail.com. Spaces are free but limited. Keep checking Facebook and your Townsman for updates on the event!

Until our next update, everyone be safe, stay healthy and most of all be happy.

Legacy Mysterious Book Report 17 Ruins of War

Published October 2, 2019

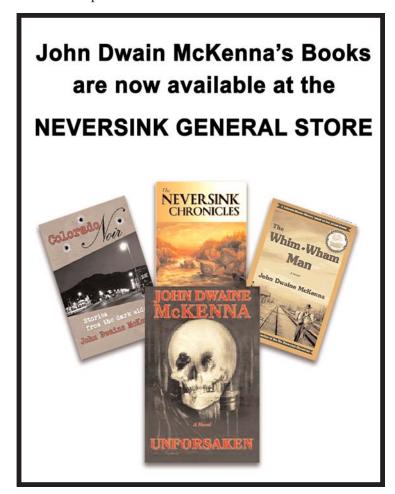

Mysterious Book Report No. 234

by John Dwaine Mckenna

Every time we start thinking that the deep, thoroughly-explored and fully-drawn well of World War II stories is about to run dry . . . along comes another author with a whole new, and fascinating point of view, coupled together with a totally original plot to disabuse us of the notion. So move over Ken Follett, make way Alan Furst and brace yourself Philip Kerr –there's a new WW II novelist come to town –and he's got some serious wordsmithing chops to go along with one of the most interesting new detectives since Bernie Gunther was shanghaied into the Nazi SS.

Ruins of War, (Berkley/Penguin-Random House, $26.95, 372 pages, ISBN 978-0-425-27895-6) by John A Connell opens with a gruesome ritualized murder that takes place in Munich, Germany during the month of December, 1945. It's been seven months since the unconditional surrender of the Third Reich; the weather is freezing; the city has been destroyed; people are starving and living like rats in the ruins. The American Army is in charge, trying to maintain order while restoring and putting in place a functioning government. At the same time, the Americans are worried about preventing an outbreak of deadly diseases like typhus or cholera, from the lack of clean water and sanitation. On page one, we meet Warrant Officer Mason Collins of the US Army's Criminal Investigation Division, or CID. He's on his way to a murder scene that's unlike anything he's ever experienced in all his years as a civilian or military detective. When he arrives on-scene he finds a nightmare waiting: an obscenely desecrated human corpse, displayed in so grotesque a manner that it's making hardened combat veterans turn away and gag. Collins realizes he's dealing with a depraved serial killer when a second mutilated body turns up just as his boss-a non-combat experienced colonel who's more concerned with his position and career advancement than catching the killer puts him on such a tight leash that catching the monster would be impossible. The Colonel's in full CYA mode and wants deniability if Collins can't catch the murderer. Collins knows he'll be the scapegoat. In the midst of all the chaos, the task is all but impossible. Thousands upon thousands of displaced persons, along with deserters, former Nazis trying to escape retribution and the survivors of the concentration camps roam about the shattered country and city. Finding a single madman before he kills again seems an impossibility . . . but Collins is destined to try . . . or die in the attempt.

Ruins of War has enough pathos and joy, good and evil, drama and moral dilemmas to keep any reader happy. But for lovers of historical crime fiction, like me, this one's a treasure. I expect the author and his character will only improve with age, and, great news! The second Mason Collins novel, Spoils of Victory is now out. We'll report on it as soon as we get the copy that's on order. John Connell is as exciting an author as has come down the pike in a good long time. Don't miss your chance to make his early acquaintance. You'll be well rewarded.

Like the review? Let your friends know, You saw it in the Mysterious Book Report, because the greatest compliment you can give is to share our work with others.

The Olive Jar by Carol Olsen LaMonda Hint, Hint

Here are some tried and true hints I have discovered, tried, and recommend: Forget steel wool pads. Wad up some used tin foil and use instead. It works on pots and grills.

If you want to renew your old cast iron skillets, you can put them in the woodstove or fireplace coals and let the intense heat burn off any sludge. Then re-season the pan.

Be careful to use fireproof gloves and tongs.

If you want to destroy mail or receipts and do not have a shredder, you can soak them in some soapy water and then squish them into a wad or smaller wads. They will be unreadable in the garbage.

Always pay credit cards off in full otherwise you will pay on them forever! Be sure to use cards that give 2% or more.

Use cloth napkins. Buy men's colored handkerchiefs or use inexpensive wash cloths.

If you have a partially used onion or tomato or cucumber or banana or whatever, wet a small piece of paper towel and seal the cut end. It will dry in fridge or on counter sealing the cut edge.

Proofread texts and be sure they go to the right person. Learned that the hard way!

If you have gut feelings or see "red flags", heed them.

Wrap salad vegetables in foil, not plastic film.

Put herbs, stems down, in a glass of water.

Don't leave dishes in the sink overnight. No one wants to face them in the morning. Keep a small blackboard to write notes in chalk.

Keep an old fashioned calendar or planner. Don't trust them to memory.

Call or write one person every day. Be sure to remind them how important they are in your life.

Don't go to bed mad. Clear the air and make way for pleasant dreams.

DEC's Annual Tree and Shrub Seedling Sale is Now Open More Than 50 Species Available from Colonel William F. Fox Memorial Saratoga Tree Nursery

School Seedling Program Application Period Now Open

The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) today announced the start of the Colonel William F. Fox Memorial Saratoga Tree Nursery annual spring seedling sale, which is open to the public and runs until May 12. Each year, the nursery offers low-cost, New York-grown tree and shrub species for sale to encourage plantings that help conserve the state's natural resources and foster the next generation of forests.

"Planting trees provides a multitude of environmental, economic, and social benefits," said DEC Commissioner Basil

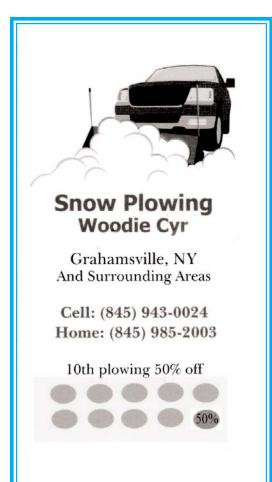

Seggos. "Trees absorb carbon dioxide from the atmosphere, making them a powerful tool in the fight against climate change. Trees lower heating and cooling costs, provide food and shelter for wildlife, improve water quality by filtering runoff, prevent erosion, supply a variety of wood products that support local economies, and increase our overall health and well-being. I encourage everyone to take advantage of our nursery's locally grown stock for all of your reforestation and conservation planting needs."

DEC's tree nursery grows more than 50 conifer and hardwood species from local seed sources, creating seedlings that are well-suited to our state's climate. They are available in bundles of 25 or more, plus there are several mixed species packets for those looking for a variety. Seedlings are a minimum of five inches tall and are one to three years old depending on the species. For more information including how to order, visit the Spring Seedling Sale webpage on DEC's website. Some species sell out early, so it is recommended to place orders by phone for the most up-to-date availability information.

Free Seedlings Available for Youth Education Through the School Seedling Program Applications are now being accepted for the nursery's School Seedling Program. From now until March 31, schools and youth education organizations across New York State may apply to receive up to 50 free tree or shrub seedlings to plant with their students.

The goal of the program is to help instill a sense of environmental stewardship at a young age and set a foundation that will allow students to make informed decisions about the use of natural resources. The program is an excellent tool for educators to use in meeting the Next Generation Science Standards as it provides a hands-on opportunity for students to learn about natural systems and the valuable role that trees play, while building their awareness of conservation issues.

All schools (public, private, nursery, elementary, secondary, vocational, college or university), homeschool groups, and any youth education-based organization may apply, provided trees are planted within New York State. Individual homeschools must apply through a homeschool group, co-op, or other association. Seedlings are two to three years old, about four inches to 12 inches tall, and bare-root. There are three packets available - 50 white spruce, 25 red oak, or 30 mixed shrub species good for wildlife habitat - and each school or organization may only receive one packet per year. Visit DEC's website for more information and to apply online. For assistance or questions, contact the Colonel William F. Fox Memorial Saratoga Tree Nursery at nysnursery@dec.ny.gov or 518-581-1439.

Assembly Hall and many others. Performance venues include Massachusetts, Connecticut, Portland, Oregon, Sweden, Germany, Vienna and France. The ensemble has also performed for former UN Secretary General Kofi Annan and also for the 60th Anniversary celebration of the UN School.

Besides the UNIS Vocal Chamber Ensemble, Stroup conducts the Senior Choir and Chamber Ensemble. He's the coordinator for the UNIS Performing Arts Program, and teaches private piano. After retirement from UNIS, he will focus all of his energies on the Shandelee Music Festival including plans for expansion of the Outreach Programs in the Sullivan County public school system, as well as expansion of SMF's Sunset Concert Series on the Festival grounds.

On December 15, 2022, dear friends, Midori and Daniel Stroup were reunited at the United Nations International School, where, in honor of his upcoming retirement, she performed a concert for 150 students of the UNIS Senior Chorus, String Ensemble and Wind Ensemble.

Along with her pianist Leva Life, Midori performed works for violin and piano by Dvorak, Prokofiev, Schumann and Franck.

In a "thank you" letter, the students told Midori that they "really enjoyed the repertoire and were thoroughly impacted" by her emotionally charged performance.

A Legendary Vacation Land Just 90 Minutes from Manhattan

Acclaimed by Lonely Planet, Harper's Bazaar, Fodor's Travel and others, the Sullivan Catskills is just 90 minutes from Manhattan. We're a legendary vacationland that's long been a destination for wellbeing.

Once home to hundreds of bungalows, summer camps and resorts, city dwellers came for our fresh mountain air, hospitality and on-site entertainment. The world-famous Woodstock Music and Art Fair came next, attracting half a million people to a dairy farm in August, 1969.

Today –spurred on by a handful of new destination resorts, and a multi-million-dollar arts center at the site of the Woodstock festival –a new generation of city dwellers seeks wellbeing. They come to recharge and unwind through soft adventure like fly-fishing, rails-to-trails hiking, eagle watching and more, surrounded by a stunning rural landscape.

Our Catskill-icious local cuisine is as sumptuous as it is inventive. The hand-crafted beverages on the Good Taste Beverage Trail are award-winning and not to be missed. Something else not to be missed: The Sullivan Catskills Dove Trail—a collection of 50 hand-painted doves perched throughout our towns, villages and attractions, in honor of the 50th anniversary of Woodstock.

Accommodations here range from full-service resorts and vacation rentals to campgrounds, charming inns and B&Bs. A good night's sleep is waiting. We're close, always open, and always ready to welcome you. How soon can you visit?

The New York State Citizen Preparedness Corps Training Program

invites you to participate in a public training event at:

Ethelbert B. Crawford Public Library 479 Broadway, Monticello, NY 12701 Robert D. Norris Community Room Tuesday, January 10, 2023 at 6:00 PM

Max Capacity= 40

Seating will be on a first come, first served basis

With severe weather events becoming more frequent and more extreme, it is more important than ever that New Yorkers are prepared for disasters. The NY Citizen Preparedness Training Program teaches residents to have the tools and resources to prepare for any type of disaster, respond accordingly and recover as quickly as possible to pre-disaster conditions. The training course will provide an introduction to responding to a natural or manmade disaster. Participants will be advised on how to properly prepare for any disaster, including developing a family emergency plan and stocking up on emergency supplies.

A Repair Cafe is a free community event. You bring your broken but beloved items and together with volunteer repair coaches, WE FIX THEM! People bring all kinds of things to a repair cafe: clocks and other mechanical items; chairs, frames, and other wooden items; electrical items and small appliances; digital devices; clothing and textiles; dolls, stuffed animals, and toys, tools in need of sharpening; jewelry and watches; and so much more! Most items get fixed, and even when they don't - we have a good time trying! Questions? Contact hshader@gmail.com or visit www.repaircafehv.org.

AARP Foundation Tax-Aide Seeks Volunteers

Are you looking for a rewarding volunteer opportunity that can put your experience and skills to good use, while helping others in your community? AARP Foundation Tax-Aide are looking for volunteers to become certified tax preparers. Help low and moderate-income individuals, families, and seniors get refunds and credits they may not have known about and efile at no cost.

If you have prepared personal income taxes in the past and are looking for a way to use these skills, consider volunteering. In addition to tax preparers, whom the program will train, Tax-Aide needs people who can provide technical and communications assistance, interpreters, and program leaders. Volunteers come from a variety of industries and range from retirees to university students. All levels and types of experience are welcome. Volunteers get a great deal of satisfaction from helping people prepare their taxes and get the refunds and credits they may not have known about.

Tax sites are open from February 2023 through April 2023 and are located throughout Ulster County. Volunteers must commit to at least four hours once a week at their assigned site during tax season, flexible hours are available.

For more information or to volunteer, contact Steve Weir, at 845-255-4442 or sweir12525@gmail.com

Slow Cooker Bread Pudding with Bourbon Sauce

99 I have (contrac-

3 large eggs 1-1/4 cups milk 1/2 cup sugar 3 teaspoons vanilla extract 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg 1/8 teaspoon salt 4-1/2 cups day-old cubed brioche or egg bread 1-1/4 cups raisins

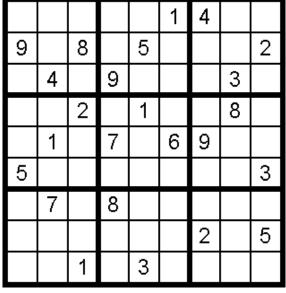

Bourbon Sauce:

1/4 cup butter, cubed 1/2 cup sugar 1/4 cup light corn syrup 3 tablespoons Tennessee bourbon

In a large bowl, whisk together first seven ingredients; stir in bread and raisins. Transfer to a greased 4qt. slow cooker. Cook, covered, on low 3 hours. (To avoid scorching, rotate slow cooker insert one-half turn midway through cooking, lifting carefully with oven mitts.)

For sauce place butter, sugar and corn syrup in a small saucepan; bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Cook and stir until sugar is dissolved. Remove from heat; stir in bourbon. Serve warm with bread pudding.

Congressman Pat Ryan Sworn Into Office as Member of 118th Congress, Outlines Priorities

Ryan reiterates promise to defend fundamental American rights, deliver much-needed economic relief

WASHINGTON, DC - After a more than four day delay, Congressman Pat Ryan was finally sworn into office in the early hours of this morning.

"The stakes for this country and for every American are simply too high for partisan games to continue- we must now come together as patriots to govern," said Representative Pat Ryan. "I'm here to defend fundamental rights, and deliver much-needed relief. It is my job first and foremost to serve the Hudson Valley. While this body may appear divided, I commit to working with anyone, regardless of party, to serve our constituents, to fight on the side of freedom, and to get things done.

"I now have the unique honor of being the first West Point graduate to represent the institution in Congress, a responsibility I do not take lightly," continued Representative Ryan. "Supporting West Point, along with all of our region's veterans and military families, is a top priority. In addition, we need to keep building an economy that works for all, grow the manufacturing base in New York, and provide clean water for the region. I look forward to taking immediate action on these critical issues, as well as a number of others, in the weeks and months to come."

Statement from Ulster County Executive Jen Metzger on the Organizational Meeting of the Ulster County Legislature

"I want to congratulate all the Legislative leaders who were re-elected to their positions--Chair of the Legislature Tracey Bartels, Vice Chair Eve Walter, Majority Leader Jonathan Heppner, Deputy Majority Leader Abe Uchitelle, and Minority Leader Ken Ronk. All are thoughtful and committed public servants who I have had the pleasure of working with in my previous role in the State Senate, and I look forward to working with them as Ulster County Executive. We have all the building blocks right here in Ulster County to create a sustainable, resilient, thriving local community and economy that leaves no one behind, and I'm excited to get to work with my Legislative partners on both sides of the aisle. There's no end to what we can accomplish when we work together."

Statement from Rep. Marc Molinaro on Congressional Swearing-In WASHINGTON, DC - U.S. Rep. Marc Molinaro (NY-19) released the following statement after being sworn in to the 118th Congress:

"I am humbled and honored to take the oath of office today and begin representing New York's 19th District in Congress.

"I have dedicated my adult life to public service. First as a village Mayor, then as a State Assemblyman, and most recently as County Executive. I view my new role in Congress as a continuation of my commitment to public service.

"Serving at all levels of local government, I have seen firsthand how Washington ignores the issues that matter most to our community. In Congress, I will ensure Upstate New York's voice is raised and as I have always done, work to deliver real results by bringing those with differing perspectives together.

"It is the honor of a lifetime to serve Upstate New York in the People's House. While it took longer than I had hoped to be sworn in, this time has underscored the importance of working within my own party and across the aisle to get things done for the people of this district. My team and I are excited to get to work, and make a difference for our community."

SC Drug Task Force Shifts Into Gear for 2023

Focused on Helping Community, Including Veterans

Members of the Sullivan County Drug Task Force include, from the left, Scott Kinne (Law Enforcement Pillar), Meagan Galligan (outgoing Co-Chair), Annette Kahrs (Data Pillar), Travis Hartman (Law Enforcement Pillar), Wendy Brown (Co-Chair), Michael Schiff (Law Enforcement Pillar), Brian Conaty (Co-Chair), Steven D'Agata (Law Enforcement Pillar) and County Legislator Nick Salomone, who chairs the Legislature's Public Safety Committee.

Monticello, NY - Sullivan County's Drug Task Force enters 2023 with new additions to its "pillar" structure. Each pillar represents a key strategy and focus of the Task Force.

Acting District Attorney Brian Conaty will co-chair the Drug Task Force with Wendy E. Brown, Deputy Commissioner of Health and Human Services, now that former DA Meagan Galligan has become a State judge.

The Law Enforcement Pillar will continue to be led by Sheriff Michael Schiff and co-chaired by Liberty Police Chief Steve D'Agata.

"We are very pleased to welcome Chief D'Agata, who has been an ardent supporter of the success of the Hope Not Handcuffs Program here," noted Brown. "We are also pleased to announce the formation of a new Veterans Pillar. We've partnered with three agencies to support our efforts to improve outreach to those who have served our nation. Membership on this Pillar will consist of representation from the SC Veterans Service Agency, Action Towards Independence's (ATI's) 'Vet to Vet' program and the Hudson Valley VA, as well as interested members of the community."

The new Veterans Pillar will be led by Ryan Fuller and Carl LoFaro. The other pillar leads are:

- o Medical Provider Pillar: Nicholas Batson and Heather Guinan-Clark
- o Hope & Prevention Pillar: Jill Hubert-Simon and Dawn Wilkin
- o United Sullivan Pillar: John Liddle and Martin Colavito
- o Policy Reform Pillar: Aileen Gunther and Judy Balaban
- o Treatment Programs Pillar: Melissa Stickle
- o Care (Perinatal) Pillar: Karen Holden and Janna Walter
- o Data Pillar: Lorne Green and the future Sullivan County Commissioner of Public Safety, when hired

Catskill Strategic Planning Advisory Group Submits Final Report to DEC Commissioner Seggos

Final Report Recommendations Build on DEC's Ongoing Efforts to Promote Sustainable Recreation, Diversity, and Protection of the Park's Natural Resources

The Catskill Strategic Planning Advisory Group (CAG) submitted its final report on promoting sustainable recreation in the Catskill Forest Preserve to New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) Commissioner Basil Seggos. Comprised of stakeholders with expertise in local government, recreation, natural resource protection, business and tourism, and other priority areas, the CAG was tasked in October 2020 with providing recommendations to DEC on how to address critical issues associated with increased public use of Catskill Park resources in order to protect these areas in the short term, as well as for future generations.

"I commend the efforts of the Catskill Strategic Planning Advisory Group for producing this comprehensive report and key recommendations to help enhance DEC's ongoing efforts to manage use and protect all the natural resources within the Catskill Forest Preserve," Commissioner Seggos said. "DEC continues to see increased visitation to State lands with a growing number of outdoor enthusiasts looking to experience New York's treasured natural resources. This report focuses on addressing sustainable use and ensuring visitors of all abilities and backgrounds can share in these outdoor experiences. DEC is already working with our partners to implement the CAG's recommendations and looks forward to continuing our progress."

The final report includes proposed actions DEC and its state and local partners could undertake, pending available funding and continued partnership, to balance increasing and diverse recreational use of the Catskill Forest Preserve, protecting the park's natural and historic resources, and ensuring visitor experiences when using the Park are welcoming, accessible, and inclusive.

The CAG has been meeting throughout the past two years to develop this report with recommendations for immediate actions and strategic investments and priorities under six major themes: Whole Park Management - The Catskill Park is currently broken down into many different jurisdictions. Recommendations include management strategies to operate the Catskill Park as a whole park in a more cohesive manner;

Natural Resources - Ensuring the protection of the Park's natural resources remains a high priority for the State and all stakeholders:

Marketing, Communication and Education - Recommending the State and other stakeholders work together to promote the Park, while also educating visitors about how to reduce their impacts;

Traffic and Parking - The current infrastructure of the Park was not developed to handle the volume of cars that are traveling to the area. Recommendations include joint investment between the State and other stakeholders to address overflow at locations that are particularly affected by the impacts of frequent visitation;

Benefits to Park Communities - Recommending the State and stakeholders work jointly in efforts to maximize the economic opportunities of the Park to better the lives of the residents of the Park: and

Building Diversity, Equity, Inclusivity, and Justice (DEIJ) principles - Recommending these principles be included in recreational, educational, and operational frameworks and the economic benefits provided in the Catskill Park and seeks to promote and embrace the benefits of DEIJ and to achieve a more welcoming and inclusive Catskill Park.

Commissioner Seggos and DEC experts are reviewing the final report as the agency continues its efforts to promote sustainable use while supporting communities in the region and throughout the Catskill Park, as well as in other popular recreation destinations on public lands across New York State. DEC established a similar effort with Adirondack Park stakeholders with the creation of the High Peaks Strategic Planning Advisory Group (HPAG) in 2019.

DEC has already begun to implement many of these recommendations including the hiring of a Catskill Park Coordinator. The Catskill Park Coordinator position was created in 2021 after the CAG recommended this position in its interim report. DEC continues to work through a Visitor Use Management Frame (VUMF) process to protect the trailless peaks of the Catskills and is planning to begin a second VUMF in the Kaaterskill Clove area in 2023. Additionally, DEC is working to expand professional trails construction and visitor education capabilities. Leading into the peak hiking seasons, DEC worked with many other public and private partners to protect public safety and natural resources in the busiest Catskill corridors and trails.

Ramsay Adams, Catskill Mountainkeeper's Executive Director, said, "Since October 2020, the Catskill Advisory Group members have collaborated to develop strong recommendations for investing in the Catskill Park, in its residents and visitors, and in protecting its lands and waters to preserve the Catskill Park's splendor for generations to come. I'm looking forward to working with Governor Hochul, Commissioner Seggos, and the advisory group over the long term to bring to life the dynamic whole-park management plan for the Catskills envisioned in our report. By seizing on the many great park management opportunities within reach, New York will usher in the next Golden Age of the Catskills."

Michael Barrett, Adirondack Mountain Club Executive Director, said, "As contributors to both CAG and HPAG, we are excited to see the completion of this report and look forward to the continued implementation of its recommendations. We commend the Governor's Office and the DEC for convening the CAG and working with its members over the past several years to produce this actionable plan to honor the vibrant culture of the Catskills, protect its biodiversity, offer first-rate recreational opportunities, and advance the economic vitality of its communities."

Adam Bosch, President of the Hudson Valley Pattern for Progress, said, "The recent surge of visitors to the Catskills has yielded new challenges and opportunities that require our attention and investment. The CAG's research underscores that intensive use of the park must be met with intensive management. Our report provides a blueprint for the state to invest in the people, infrastructure and partnerships that will protect and preserve the Catskill Park while keeping it accessible to all visitors who responsibly enjoy its wild and scenic lands."

Joshua Howard, New York-New Jersey Trail Conference Executive Director, said, "The New York-New Jersey Trail Conference is excited to share this report with DEC Commissioner Seggos and the public. The Catskill Advisory Group's final recommendations are the culmination of a great deal of collaboration and consensus building amongst organizations who care about the Catskills Forest Preserve. This report provides a roadmap for making recreation in the Catskill Park sustainable, welcoming, and equitable for all who seek the benefits of one of New York's greatest treasures."

Jeff Senterman, Executive Director of the Catskill Center for Conservation and Development, said, "As one of New York's crown jewels, the Catskill Park and Forest Preserve must be protected and actively managed to ensure natural resource protection and recreational access, while also safeguarding and supporting the communities within the Park. The CAG's Final Report recognizes these challenges and opportunities, and makes specific, implementable recommendations that will improve the Park for all. Within those recommendations, we note the importance of the Catskills Visitor Center as the official visitor center for the Catskill Park and the increased investments in the CVC called for in the CAG's report. We are proud to have been part of the CAG's process leading up to the Final Report, and look forward to working with the DEC and our fellow stakeholders to ensure adequate and necessary long-term funding exists and that all recommendations are implemented."

The final report and summaries of CAG meetings are available on the DEC Catskill Strategic Planning Advisory Group webpage at DEC's website at: https://www.dec.ny.gov/lands/122227.html

Mountainkeeper –Big Opportunities for 2023

Happy New Year! Mountainkeeper is excited about the big opportunities ahead in 2023, and we're determined to keep last year's momentum going strong as we work to protect New York communities and natural spaces in 2023. Keep reading to learn about the Catskill Advisory Group's plan to make major improvements in the Catskill Park, get the lowdown on Governor Hochul's failure to sign an important bill that would have protected indigenous burial sites, and start your weekend right with some good news about the work being done to clean up some of our planet's dirtiest industries. Sincerely,

Ramsay Adams, Executive Director

Positive Change in the Catskill Park

Mountainkeeper knows all about what makes our region so special, so it comes as no surprise that in 2021 over 12 million people came here to hike, camp, and enjoy the beautiful vistas that the Catskill Park has to offer. This means that our Park welcomed more visitors in 2021 than the Grand Canyon, Yosemite, and Yellowstone combined!

We're thrilled to see so many people getting in touch with nature in the Catskills, and the recent surge in park-goers has been an economic boon for adjacent communities that rely on tourism. While this is great news, the uptick in visitors also brings challenges like overcrowding at trailheads, public safety hazards along busy mountainside roads, increased litter, illegal camping, and more. All of these present considerable challenges for already-strained local emergency services, foresters, rangers, and Catskills towns. Working with community stakeholders and environmental experts, the Catskill Advisory Group (CAG) has developed a roadmap for NY State to adopt a whole park management plan that will help address these issues and make our Park an even more spectacular resource for the people who work, live, and play here. As a member of the CAG, Mountainkeeper is proud of the work we've done, and very excited about its potential to help NY State usher in a golden age for the Catskill Park.

The CAG report lays out recommendations for tackling some of the biggest issues head-on. First, we need New York State (NYS) to heavily invest in some basic park infrastructure: staff like rangers and stewards to keep visitors safe and educate them about how to enjoy wild areas in a responsible way, trail crews to maintain and improve hiking trails, and expansions to parking areas where appropriate. In order to get there, we also need an ongoing commitment to collecting thorough and robust data to help NY State understand the carrying capacities of each area within the park, and develop management strategies to give visitors the best experience possible while also protecting our lands and waters. A full report with CAG's recommendations can be found on our website. (Contd. Pg. 28)

Unmarked Graves Bill Vetoed

We're disappointed to share that on December 30th, New York State Governor Kathy Hochul vetoed the Unmarked Burial Site Protection Act, a vital piece of legislation that would protect sacred indigenous burial sites from desecration by looters and land developers. Mountainkeeper advocated tirelessly for this bill, and we were hugely disappointed to learn about the Governor's veto despite unanimous support in both the Assembly and Senate.

New Year's Reflections

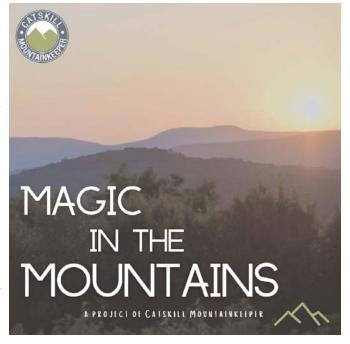

What are your goals this year? Do you have any New Year's resolutions? In our first podcast episode of 2023, hosts Eugene Thalmann and Taylor Jaffe reflect on how their lives have changed over the last 12 months, and discuss their plans for the new year. This conversation is all about engaging in new healthy activities, overcoming pesky bad habits, and the importance of self care and personal wellness. You can listen to this episode on Spotify or Anchor, and we hope it inspires you to be your best in 2023!

Magic in the Mountains is a podcast for nature enthusiasts, environmentalists, and everyone in between who wants to learn about the environment, food systems, sustainable farming and agriculture, personal wellness, and more. Hosts Eugene Thalmann and Taylor Jaffetwo young farmers based in different parts of the Catskills-are connected through their respective roles as Mountainkeeper's Agricultural Program Coordinator and Environmental Justice Coordinator. Each week they get together to discuss a different aspect of life on their farms, and how it relates to environmental justice, ecosystem sustainability, local and global food systems, and more.

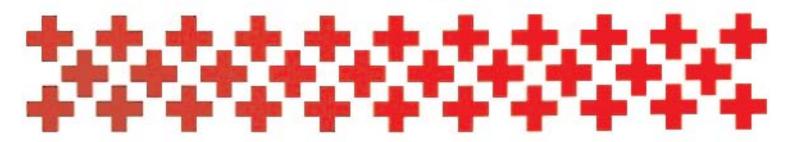

However, by garnering unanimous legislative support for this bill and getting it all the way to the Governor's desk, we reached a major milestone in this fight. The bill would never have gotten this far without the help of all the friends and supporters who sent hundreds of letters to the Governor advocating for action to protect indigenous culture and heritage. The timeline for creating meaningful, positive change isn't always as speedy as we'd like it to be, but we are undaunted and will keep fighting for indigenous rights.

Looking ahead to next steps in 2023, we will continue to raise awareness about this issue and urge our elected officials to pass this bill. In all of this work, Mountainkeeper will continue to rely on the collective energy and support of our wonderful friends and allies.

Whispers of Rimfire in the Night - Sullivan County

On Dec. 4, Lieutenant Buckley, ECO Wood, K9 CJ, and ECO Parker completed an investigation into an illegally harvested deer in the town of Highland.

The Officers received a call a day earlier from a local resident who witnessed a deer being loaded into the bed of a pickup truck. The witness obtained license plate number and shared with ECOs.

The Officers interviewed the subject who admitted to shooting a deer with a rimfire rifle several hours after sunset the previous night. ECOs also determined through the investigation that the same hunter took two other deer during the bow season without a bowhunting privilege. The Officers seized all three deer and charged the subject with illegally taking three deer, taking two deer during the bow season without a bowhunting privilege, hunting with rimfire ammunition, discharging a firearm within 500 feet of a residence, hunting game at night, failing to tag deer as required, and failing to report his harvest

Too Late for Turkey Sausage

On Dec. 10, ECO Wamsley received a call from the Town of Hyde Park Police reporting an individual hunting from their porch near several homes. Officer Wamsley responded to the location, interviewed the hunter, and asked to see his hunting license. While the hunter was retrieving his license from the home, ECO Wamsley noticed a freshly killed wild turkey hanging from machinery on the property. The hunter, who returned with his license, said he shot the turkey that morning as it was walking through the yard and planned to make sausage from the illegally taken bird. The 2022 turkey season in Dutchess County was only open during the month of May and from Oct. 15 to 28. Officer Wamsley ticketed the hunter for taking a turkey out of season, illegally taking a protected species, failure to immediately fill out a hunting tag, and failure to tag the turkey upon harvest. Since measurements determined the hunter was further than 500 feet away from nearby homes when he shot the bird, the hunter did not receive tickets for hunting too close to a residence. The case is pending in Hyde Park Town Court.

Deer Poacher Caught with Unregistered Firearm

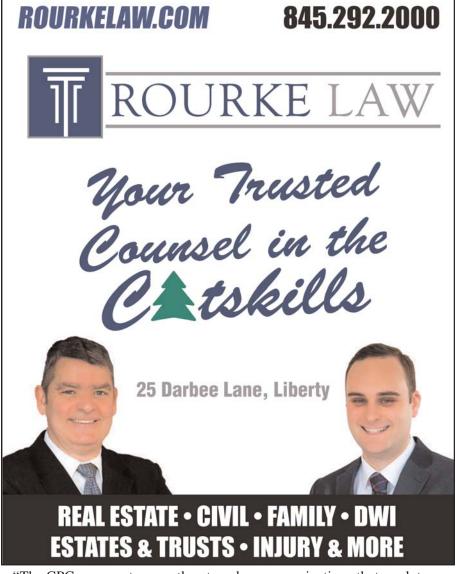

ECOs Doroski and Lovgren recently received a call from a witness claiming they saw two men shoot a deer out of a truck in Orange County. When the Officers arrived on scene, they found two subjects field dressing the deer. Both hunters admitted to discharging their respective firearms, killing the animal. ECO Wood and K9 CJ arrived and located a freshly fired, spent nine-millimeter shell casing, consistent with ammunition found in one of the weapons. Officers ticketed the men for the illegal take of protected wildlife, using a motor vehicle to take wildlife, and discharging a weapon within 500 feet of a dwelling. One of the subjects received a felony charge for unlawful possession of a firearm.

Catskill Center Wants NYS To Fund Catskill Park Priorities

Arkville, NY: The Catskill Park Coalition (CPC), which the Catskill Center for Conservation and Development co-chairs, is asking Governor Kathy Hochul to include a number of Catskill Park funding priorities in the Executive Budget proposal. The top three priorities are public safety and Catskill Park management, continued funding in the Environmental Protection Fund (EPF), and support for local economies.

These funding priorities secure protections for clean water, natural resources, and public health. They also safeguard recreational access and quality of life for residents of and visitors to the Park. The Catskill Center's Executive Director recently signed a letter to Governor Hochul with CPC cochair Catskill Mountainkeeper.

"The CPC represents more than two dozen organizations that work to protect, promote, and care for the Catskill Park," said Jeff Senterman, Executive Director of the Catskill Center. "The Catskill Park Coalition reached its 2023 priorities by consensus and identifying unmet needs in the Park. We look forward to working with the Governor and Legislature to ensure that these critical funding priorities for the Catskill Park are met."

For public safety and Catskill Park management, the CPC wants to see the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (NYSDEC) adequately staffed, especially by adding staff in the Division of Lands and Forests, to better manage the Catskill Park and its more than 1.7 million annual visitors.

The CPC asks that within the EPF, existing funding lines for the Catskills remain, including for the Catskills Visitor Center as well as for Smart Growth grants. In addition, the CPC requests a new line in the EPF containing at least $200,000 to support the existing education and stewardship program. Catskill stewards have proven vital to educating the growing number of visitors to help preserve the Park's gem of an environment. The Catskill Stewards Program is a partnership with NYSDEC and Catskill Mountainkeeper.

The CPC advocates supporting local economies by improving cell service, expanding affordable housing, improving trail connectivity, and supporting the construction of Phase 1 of the U&D Trail (Ulster & Delaware Railroad Corridor).

In its letter to Governor Hochul, the CPC mentions working with NYS to help implement the Environmental Bond Act in the Catskill Park and greater Catskills.

Governor Hochul Announces Completion of Saranac Lake Civic Center's Nearly $7 Million Upgrade Venue Will Host Curling Competitions During Upcoming Lake Placid 2023 World University Games

Revitalized Facility Enhances Regional Sports Infrastructure to Support Future Events, Complements State Investments in ORDA Facilities

Governor Kathy Hochul announced the completion of the nearly $7 million upgrade project at Saranac Lake Civic Center in Franklin County. The year-round, not-for-profit recreation and events facility underwent significant interior and exterior improvements, and the completion coincides with the upcoming Lake Placid 2023 FISU World University Games beginning January 12, and the Center will host the Games' men's and women's curling competitions. The project was supported by more than $5 million in Upstate Revitalization Initiative funds from Empire State Development, through the North Country Regional Economic Development Council.

"As New York's North Country welcomes visitors from around the globe for the World University Games, we have a unique opportunity to showcase our world-class competitive winter sports facilities with the upgraded Saranac Lake Civic Center," Governor Hochul said. "The upgraded Civic Center will not only provide an optimal experience for curlers and fans, but it will also bolster future generations of youth sports groups, our local communities and the entire North Country region."

The nearly $7 million capital project included interior and exterior renovations, as well as energy efficiency, fire and safety improvements. Rink improvements ensured that the ice surface meets world class competition standards. Additional upgrades to kitchen, locker room facilities and spectator seating offer a better athlete and visitor experience, and better position Saranac Lake to attract future events, enhancing the regional sports competition infrastructure. The project coincides with the North Country Regional Economic Development Council's strategy of strengthening the region's global sports brand by attracting international sporting events that would stimulate private investment and job growth and catalyze the renovation of the area's sports and hospitality facilities.

Lake Placid 2023 FISU Games are an 11-day multi-winter sports event and educational festival, happening January 12-22 in communities throughout the North Country. Nearly 1,500 athletes from more than 540 universities and 46 countries will participate in 12 winter sports and 86 medal events. Competitions include Alpine skiing, biathlon, cross-country skiing, curling, figure skating, freestyle and freeski, ice hockey, Nordic combined, ski jumping, snowboarding and speed skating.

The Games will also attract thousands of winter sports fans to Saranac Lake and Lake Placid as well as the surrounding communities, including Canton, North Creek, Potsdam, and Wilmington. More information about the Games, including ticket purchasing options.

Ollie Burgess, Saranac Lake Civic Center Board Member, said, "On behalf of the Saranac Lake Civic Center Board of Directors and management team, we are proud to celebrate the completion of our capital improvement and expansion project. We would like to thank Governor Hochul, Empire State Development, the North Country Regional Economic Development Council, and our local supporters, without all of whom this incredible project could not have happened. As we prepare to host the international curling community, the facility modernizations and improvements have further solidified the Saranac Lake region as a world class winter sports destination, and a leader in supporting the children, families and communities of the North County."

This project complements other state investments to boost the region's winter sports infrastructure. Over the last six years, New York has invested more than $550 million in the state's Olympic Regional Development Authority facilities to help reposition the region as a global winter sport destination. The ORDA venues are open year-round for events, athlete training, and recreation, while providing world-class experiences and competitions. Last winter, New York welcomed 68.5 million visitors, generating more than $16.1 billion in direct visitor spending.

The Saranac Lake Civic Center was originally built in the 1970s to support youth hockey in the region. In 1989, Saranac Lake Civic Center, Inc. was created to take over the lease of the arena and to operate the facility. The center hosts winter sports including hockey, curling and figure skating, along with nonsporting events like auctions and tradeshows. The 24,000 square-foot center has 15,000 square-feet continuous open floor space and includes six new locker rooms, plus a new heated and air-conditioned lobby, and a heated second-floor mezzanine.

CASA Court Appointed Special Advocates

Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASAs) are speciallytrained, objective community volunteers appointed by Family Court to advocate for children who are in out-of-home placement or who are at risk of being placed in foster care.

CASA is appointed by court order to collaborate with others involved in a child's case and gather information from all interested persons including parents, foster parents, teachers, case managers, doctors, therapists, attorneys, other service providers, and the child. CASA provides fact-based reports to assist the court in addressing the child's needs and in determining what is in their best interest.

When CASA is appointed, children are either in foster care or in the care of their parents or extended family with services and family court oversight. Many are safely reunified with the parents. In other cases, children and youth are permanently placed with relatives or are adopted.

CASA's ultimate goal is for children to grow up in permanent, safe, healthy family homes.

A CASA's role does NOT replace that of a caseworker or any attorney assigned to a case. CASAs do NOT provide services such as parenting classes or counseling, or direct assistance like food banks, transportation, and temporary assistance. Our Mission

To seek permanency for abused and/or neglected children who are involved in Family Court proceedings and have been removed or are at risk of being removed to foster care.

How Do We Do This?

LEARN - Advocates learn all they can about the child and their life

ENGAGE - Within the context of CASA's work, build a trusting relationship and engage with the child during regular visits. COLLABORATE - Collaborate with others to ensure that necessary services are being provided

REPORT - Advocates report to the court what they have learned and observed

ADVOCATE- CASA advocates by using the information gathered and working with the service providers to bring factual information to the Court.

Our Volunteers

CASA volunteers are regular people, from all walks of life, who have been thoroughly screened and trained.

Each volunteer receives more than 30 hours of training before they can be assigned to a case.

They also have an additional 12 hours of continued education required annually.

Volunteers receive ongoing support to help them advocate effectively on a child's behalf.

All CASA Volunteers are required to undergo a comprehensive background check prior to being assigned to a case.

Our Duties and Responsibilities

To maintain strict confidentiality.

To maintain objectivity.

To treat all persons with respect, fairness, and courtesy regardless of their race, culture, religion, gender or economic status.

To advocate for the best interest of every child we serve.

To visit all children a minimum of ONE time a month.

To develop collaborative working relationships with all parties involved to maximize resources and efficiency.

To embrace honesty and open communication to share pertinent information as permitted by our strict confidentiality policy.

To attend all court hearings

To provide factual information to the court via CASA Reports.

Washington, DC - Congresswoman Claudia Tenney (NY- 24) today announced the locations of her Washington, DC office as well as her district offices across New York's newly drawn 24th Congressional District. Tenney also highlighted her senior leadership team, which includes experienced caseworkers and public servants who will continue to provide top-tier constituent services and policy expertise to the residents of New York's 24th District.

In addition to the office locations and satellite hours listed below, Congresswoman Tenney's team of expert caseworkers will also host regular mobile office hours in communities across the 24th District to bring our assistance directly to the communities we serve. Mobile office hour sessions will be announced monthly on a rolling basis in all 12 counties of the 24th District.

Congresswoman Tenney previously represented the 22nd Congressional District for two terms in the U.S. House of Representatives. Following New York's redistricting process, Tenney was re-elected for a third term in November representing the newly drawn 24th District, which now includes portions of the North Country, Central New York, the Finger Lakes, and Western New York. Tenney resides in Canandaigua, New York.

"I made a commitment to the residents of New York's 24th District that we would be ready to serve you on day one of the new Congress, and I am honored that we have made good on this promise. Our new office locations and excellent team of seasoned policy and customer service professionals will provide the highest level of support and care to every resident of the 24th District," said Congresswoman Tenney. "Our commitment to this community is that we will serve transparently with honor, integrity, and compassion. We will provide top-tier constituent services and work proactively to address the full range of constituent needs and concerns while advancing policies that improve our region, uphold the Constitution, and make our nation stronger than ever."

Update on Efforts to Hold NY Comptroller Accountable

I recently sent a letter to the New York State Comptroller Thomas DiNapoli expressing concerns over his office's decision to delay key findings related to the audit of the New York State Unemployment Insurance system until after an election. The audit report 2021-S-3 titled, "Department of Labor: Controls and Management of the Unemployment Insurance System (The Report)," details rampant waste, fraud, and abuse of taxpayer funds intended for COVID relief.

Our letter to DiNapoli emphasized that the comptroller's decision to delay making the findings public until after the 2022 election was potentially a deliberate attempt to limit damage to Governor Kathy Hochul's New York campaign and withhold vital and relevant information from voters.

I will continue to seek all documents and communications between any New York Comptroller employee and employees with the Office of the New York State Governor until New Yorkers have answers. Read the full letter here.

My Comments on the Election of Kevin McCarthy as Speaker and Republican Priorities in the 118th Congress

Congratulations to Speaker Kevin McCarthy and all those elected to serve this great nation in the 118th Congress.

House Republicans have offered a bold, productive, and positive agenda for America that is built on the foundation of freedom and prosperity for all. The deliberative process over the last several days was healthy for our Republican Conference and our nation's democratic process. It resulted in a set of rule changes that make good on our Commitment to America by restoring transparency to Congress, reining in runaway spending, holding China accountable, and strengthening oversight.

Republicans were elected to govern, and now that we have a Speaker and a plan to make Congress work again, that is exactly what we will do.

2023 SHOULD BE A GREAT YEAR FOR US

BY JOSHUA POTOSEK, COUNTY MANAGER

A County budget with no new taxes, no layoffs, no service cuts. Check.

A $21 million plan to fix roads and bridges without going into any debt.

Check.

An expanding transportation infrastructure, including free public busing and an airport on the cusp of major development. Check.

A plan to address the housing crisis in the County.

Check

A stable financial outlook, thanks to a close eye on expenses and the historic settling of eight labor union contracts in one year.

Vibrant, growing downtowns with plenty more room for creative entrepreneurs.

A tourism industry that is seeing healthy, sustained growth. Check.

A County-funded scholarship program that affords every local high school graduate not one but two years of tuition-free higher education.

Check.

Increased salary offerings and leadership training to retain the top employees we have and recruit the next generation.

Yes, Sullivan County has plenty of challenges ahead, but it is not hyperbole to note that 2023 is already shaping up to be a year unlike any other in our history. Thanks to your hardworking County employees and your elected officials, Sullivan is recognized Statewide as a County to watch and emulate.

And we've got more in store, like a major rollout of broadband service Countywide. Our new year is one worth celebrating, and I look forward to sharing more good news with you in the months to come!

WHAT YOU'LL FIND IN THIS ISSUE:

A NEW INDUSTRIAL
PARK - 2

A BUSY WINTER? YOU BET - 3

DISCOVER AN ENTIRE COUNTY - 4

CREATING NEW JOBS & NOT A NEW LANDFILL

One of the last things to happen in 2022 was also one of the more interesting things to happen in 2022. The Sullivan County Funding Corporation (a sibling of the better-known Industrial Development Agency) successfully closed on the sale of 84.57 acres to Monticello Industrial Park (MIP), LLC on December 12. A check for $599,183.73 was delivered to the County shortly thereafter.

This acreage, located just off Rose Valley Road in Monticello (behind the former Apollo Mall), had been obtained by the County decades ago for the expansion of the County Landfill. Called "Phase II," the project was ultimately cancelled by the Legislature.

Focus was then turned to developing the site as an industrial park, owned and operated by the County. Then one day a company called Apple Ice expressed interest in acquiring the property to create their own industrial park, and the Funding Corporation - which owned the acreage - entered into negotiations. A major ice and salt supplier, Apple Ice already owned an existing building adjacent to the landfill property and had an option on expanding next door. The sale means they now have up to five developable portions of the property for light industry (like warehouses, distribution facilities and small manufacturers) - AND they'll be paying property taxes, unlike our tax-exempt ownership.

Located right off Route 17's Exit 106, it's a prime piece of land that holds the promise of increasing jobs and tax revenue for the Village of Monticello, the Town of Thompson and Sullivan County.

The red pin marks the purchased property site.

This northward view of the proposed industrial park property in Monticello shows the now-closed County Landfill on the left, the former Apollo Mall just beyond, the Catskill Mountains and Resorts World Catskills casino in the distance, and Route 17's Exit 106 interchange at upper right.

THE 2023 BUDGET DOES NOT RAISE YOUR TAXES

That's a headline we don't often get to see, but it's true. The tax rate does not increase under the 2023 Sullivan County Budget, as proposed by the County Manager's Office and just approved by the Legislature.

That comes with no layoffs and no service cuts. In fact, we're dedicating $21 million to road and bridgework, without going into any debt. We've gotten rid of the Solid Waste Access Fee too, so some of us may see our taxes actually go down.

THE WINTER IS NOT PUBLIC WORKS' 'QUIET TIME'

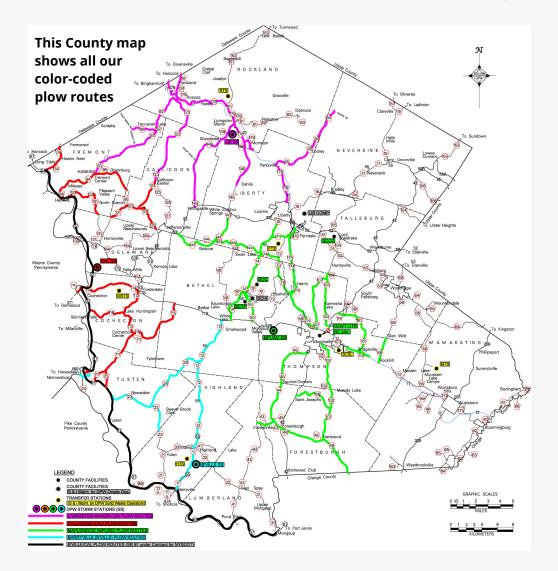

When people hear about our road crews, they usually think of traffic cones, flagmen, and paving equipment. But that kind of work happens in spring, summer and fall. What does our Public Works team do in the winter? Work harder than ever.

There's summer equipment to repair, paperwork to get caught up on, indoor maintenance to get to.

And, of course, they still pay close attention to our roads - only this time they're making sure County routes (and SUNY Sullivan's lots) are plowed, sanded and salted.

We have:

- 21 active plow trucks each responsible for a route mounted with a plow, wing, and sander. 14 of those trucks have the capability to pretreat salt with liquid brine prior to applying. (Pretreating helps reduce salt usage and makes the salt much more effective colder temps)
- 44 active drivers
- 6,000 tons of salt in stock with the ability to purchase 15,000 more tons when needed
- 269 miles of roads

"ONE MAN AND HIS DREAM'

On April 4th, 1968 Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was assassinated—a catastrophic moment that shook the world. This year marks the 55th anniversary of the tragic event and in the twodocumentary special, Martin Luther King Jr.: One Man and His Dream, with host Sir Trevor McDonald, explores the life and legacy of one of the most influential people to ever live and one who continues to influence modern politics decades after his death.

King's famous "I Have a Dream" speech —according to McDonald this documentary describes Martin Luther King Jr. as a civil rights leader "dreamed of black and white children playing together; people of all races around the same table.'

https://kinginsttute.stanford.edu/encyclopedia/assassination-martin-luther-king-jr

From the March on Washington in 1963 up until his assassination in 1968, the FBI engaged in an intense campaign to discredit Martin Luther King Jr. and his work. Film director Sam Pollard chronicles those efforts in the new documentary, MLK/FBI.

"The first fear that [FBI director J. Edgar Hoover] had was that King was going to align himself with the Communist Party, which J. Edgar Hoover was obsessed with destroying," Pollard says.

Pollard's documentary is based on newly declassified files obtained through the Freedom of Information Act, along with restored archival footage. It shows the government's extensive targeting of King and his associates during the 1960s.

The FBI campaign against King began with wiretaps, but quickly ballooned. When wiretaps revealed that King was having extramarital affairs, the FBI shifted their focus to uncover all evidence of his infidelity by bugging and taping him in his hotel rooms and by paying informants to spy on him. Eventually, the FBI penned and sent King an anonymous letter, along with some of their tapes, suggesting that he should kill himself.

King's famous "I Have a Dream" speech ...According to McDonald in Martin Luther King Jr.: One Man and His Dream, King's famous "I Have a Dream", the civil rights leader "dreamed of black and white children playing together. People of all races around the same table."
