SENATOR GILLIBRAND COM-MENDS NEW YORK HEROES FOR AVERTING EXPLOSION IN TIMES SQUARE

Following a failed car bomb found in Times Square yesterday evening that was defused by a heroic street vendor and New York City police, U.S. Senator Kirsten Gillibrand (D-NY) issued the following statement:

"I want to commend all the heroes who acted quickly to avert a potential disaster in Times Square yesterday - from the T-shirt vendor who saw something and did something, to Officer Wayne Radigan, to the entire NYPD and other law enforcement professionals who worked together quickly and seamlessly to defuse the situation. This incident shows that New Yorkers stand ready to do what's necessary to keep our city safe.
"I spoke to Mayor Bloomberg this morning, and while we don't yet know the details of who was behind this cowardly attempt to take innocent lives, this is yet another stark reminder that we must remain vigilant in investing federal homeland security resources to protect New York City and the nation. (Contd. Pg. 15)

HERE AND THERE

This past weekend several local people attended the wedding of Nathaniel James McCarthy and Megan Eileen Cooney, held at the Immaculate Conception Parish in Port Jervis Saturday afternoon. Several guests stayed overnight at the Best Western Hotel in Matamoras, where the reception was held. Everything was as perfect as anyone would hope for: warm sunny weather, beautiful bride, handsome groom, proud family members, and many friends to share their special day. Don and I came home with a beautiful bouquet of flowers as winners of the Longest Married couple in attendance. (It was close: the runners-up were also married in 1957, but three months later than we were.) Megan and Nate, congratulations and many good wishes for the years ahead!

Long-time hunters may have to look to their laurels! The latest successful wild turkey taker is 15 years old, and female! Cheyenne Hennessey, our neighbor, went out with her father Saturday morning and came home with a beauty - a tom turkey weighing 18 _ pounds, with an 8 inch beard and one-inch spurs, on a 4-10 shotgun, from a distance of 35 yards. She then helped skin and clean the bird, and wired the feet down on a board, so the claws would dry spread out. She is also keeping the beautiful feathers, and expects to enjoy a family meal on him this week. Nice shooting, Chevenne!

Current and up-coming special days: Joe Costa of Benton Hollow Road, 5-2; Doug Hamilton, 5-7; Charlie Hamilton, 5-8; also two anniversaries: son David and daughter-in-law Lisa count 20 years together on 5-5; and Paula and Mike Ryan, 12 years on 5-9. Many happy returns to all!

That's it for this time: busy weekend, few items. Hope to have more the next time.

Have a good week, and Happy Mother's Day! (pah)

SC SHERIFF WARMS OF MAIL SCAM

A Monticello resident received notification last week that he had won $125,000 in a lottery he had never entered. As part of the scam, he was sent a realistic looking check drawn on the Wells Fargo Bank that was supposed to pay for the taxes on his winnings. The letter requested that he deposit the check and then send money via Western Union so that his winnings could be processed. The citizen became suspicous and immediately called the Sheriff's Office. "Judging by the 647 area code, this scam is coming out of Ontairo, Canada", said Sheriff Mike Schiff. "We want to remind the public of two things. If it looks too good to be true, it probably is. And, if it involves sending money to a stranger via Western Union, Money Gram, or another wire service, watch out, that is a red flag". The Sheriff asks citizens to remain vigilant and report any suspicious solicitations.

MUSTS OF SAFE MEDICINE USE

Older adults live with at least one chronic condition. including arthritis, heart disease or diabetes, take multiple medicines and consult several healthcare providers. In addition, age-related changes that affect the way certain drugs work in the body, as well as noticeable communication gaps about medicines between patients and their healthcare providers, can set the stage for serious medicine use related problems, resulting in additional illness, hospitalization and even death.

The Caregiver Resource Center has been re-scheduled MUST for SeniorsTM (Medication Use Safety Training) workshop for Tuesday, May 18 at 3 pm at Cornell Cooperative Extension (64 Ferndale-Loomis Road, Liberty). Seniors and caregivers may call (845) 292-5250 or email lds82@cornell.edu to register by May 17 (a minimum of 5/maximum of 15- please RSVP to hold your seat). The CRC is joining the National Council on Patient Information and Education (NCPIE) to provide important information about safe medicine use to older adults and caregivers.

MUST for SeniorsTM is an interactive initiative designed to promote safe and appropriate medicine use by giving older adults and caregivers the tools and know-how to avoid medication misuse, recognize and manage common side effects in consultation with their healthcare providers, and improve medicine use knowledge, attitudes, and skills to avoid medication errors. When used properly, medicines can treat or delay the onset or progression of many chronic condi-tions, and enhance quality of life by limiting loss of function and alleviating troublesome symptoms.

"This is an important educational campaign, especially in light of the aging baby boomer population, which is expected to reach 71 million strong by 2030," said Deborah Allen, Executive Director of the Sullivan County Office for the Aging. "The use of multiple medicines - - prescription and over-the-counter medicines in addition to supplements and herbal remedies -- can result in potentially harmful drug interactions, so it's critical to open a dialogue among older adults, caregivers and healthcare professionals about these issues.

FERNS By Peggy De Wire

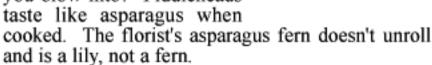

Do you agree that ferns are one of summer's green glories? I think that nothing equals their lacy elegance and feathery shape. People have admired ferns since ancient times in fact their name traces back to the Sanskrit word for feather, "parna." Did you know that ferns have no flowers or seeds? Instead, brown powdery spores produce baby ferns from nowhere like magic.

When scientists during the Middle Ages found young ferns growing, they supposed that fern seeds really did exist beause all other plants have seeds. It was concluded that they were invisible. Furthermore, any lucky finder could render himself invisible.

Did you know that ferns are the only plant whose leaves (fronds) begin as tightly coiled fiddleheads that unroll as they grow, much like a party favor that you blow into? Fiddleheads

Four hundred million years ago, ferns came from the sea. They were the first plants on earth to lift upright on stems through the tidal ooze toward the

This stem contained a pipeline fiber that carried plant food from roots to leaves, exposing it to sunlight and BLAMMO!- chlorophyll was produced! Thus began photosynthesis for all future plants to come, a priceless legacy from the fern's vascular pipeline.

With this wonderful accomplishment, ferns flourished for millions of years and their decayed remains fossilized into the vast coal beds of our times.

Today we have 6000 species of the flinacae family found worldwide except deserts and Polar Regions.

These small descendents vary from the thumbnail-sized water fern of our Gulf States to sixty-foot tropical fern trees called hapuu in Hawaii.

Spores grow on the underside of fronds in rows of tiny brown packets, which burst into brown dust when mature. Other spores grow in clusters like grapes on separate stalks.

Because each has its own distinctive spore-dot pattern, this is an easy and reliable way to identify ferns in a book.

When a spore packet spits open and a spore lands on a moist suitable spot, it grows into a tiny green heart-shaped pad (gametophyte) with male and female parts that join to form a fertilized cell.

This second plant (sporophyte) grows roots and leaves, eventually becoing an independent baby fern. It takes seven years from spore to mature fern.

While it's wonderful to enjoy the beautiful lacy green elegance of "just ferns", it's lots more fun to recongize a green triangle of bracken, a delicate ladyfern, a pale-green hay-scented fern whose feathery fronds swivel to follow the sun across the sky.

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST (From Pg. 1)

The story opens with once upon a time' with an enchantress casting her spell, (played by Danielle Conlon on Friday night and Allyson Delaney on Saturday night), and closes with everyone living happily ever after. In between, we meet dancdishes, spoons, knives, a talking clock, candelabra. teapot, wolves and a charming feather duster.

Directed by Regina Hartman, the cast featured 36 members (10 of which are graduating seniors) along with 28 additional volunteers in the production staff. Theatre Orchestra Conductor, Matthew Weyant, conducted the student pit band of ten that played to perfection.

During intermission, luminous roses were available for purchase as a fundraiser for the Theatre Club and the audience was asked to join in raising their rose with Belle at the finale. The audience participation gave way to cheers and a standing ovation when Belle breaks the spell and the beast becomes the Prince once again.

It was truly an enchanted evening and so was the performance from a very talented young cast. Senior, Patricia Singh, was both beautiful and believable as Belle and 6'4 Junior, Brendan Sanok, gave as realistic image as both the Beast and as a handsome Prince. Senior, Logan Ackerley, in his first singing role as Maurice sang and moved around the stage like a veteran. Matthew Bogorad really seized the opportunity to stretch his vocal wings and his muscles as the brash egomaniac Gaston with Daniel Short adding silly antics as LeFou.

Everyone enjoyed the bewitched castle objects which were both charming and beautiful pervisually Rachel formed by Victoria Tingley as Chip, Adriaans as Mrs. Potts, Ethan Terwilliger as Cogsworth, Senior Kathryn Schneyer as madam de la Grande Bouche, Sarah McCauliff as Babette and Matthew Cavanaugh as fessional with captivating solo numbers. However, perhaps what was most entertaining was that the cast genuinely ooked to be enjoying themselves and having the best tie in the roles they were playing. The chemistry was obvious and the audience was treated to a wonderful evening of live theatre. By the sounds of the children's giggles in the audience and the thunderous applause, it appeared everyone agreed.

REMEMBER MAMA

As May approaches, sons and daughters will once again be making plans to celebrate motherhood in various ways for this Sunday, Mother's Day. While Mother's Day has only been celebrated since the latter part of the nineteenth since the latter part of the nineteenth century in the United States, celebrations honoring 'mother' can actually be traced back to the times of ancient Greeks who held annual spring festivities to honor Rhea, the mother of many deities and to the offerings ancient Romans made to their Great Mother of gods, Cybele. The ancient Romans also had another holiday, Matronalia, that was dedicated to Juno, though mothers were usually given gifts on this day.

By the 1600s, the early Christians in England celebrated a Mother's festival on the fourth Sunday of Lent in honor of Mary, the mother of Jesus Christ. Eventually, a religious order extended the celebration to include all mothers and 'Mothering' became popu-to include all mothers and 'Mothering' became popular in England.

At that time, it was also a tradition for people working away from their homes to return to their 'Mother' Church in the middle of Lent which provided an occasion for family reunions. On the way to go home, children would pick flowers for their mother and for 'Mother' Church.

When the English people immigrated and settled in the USA they did not continue the tradition of Mothering Sunday in their new land. It wasn't until 1872 when Julia Ward Howe, a Boston pacifist and suffragist, organized a day called a "Mother's Day for Peace" encouraging mothers to rally for peace, motherhood and womanhood. The idea caught on and woman in different cities in America followed and women in different cities in America followed and began to organize separate "Mother's Day for Peace" gatherings. Ann Marie Reeves Jarvis, a homemaker who lived in the Appalachians, organized women during the Civil War to improve sanitary conditions, and eventually set up "Mother's Friendship Day."

By 1907, Ann Marie Reeves Jarvis's daughter,

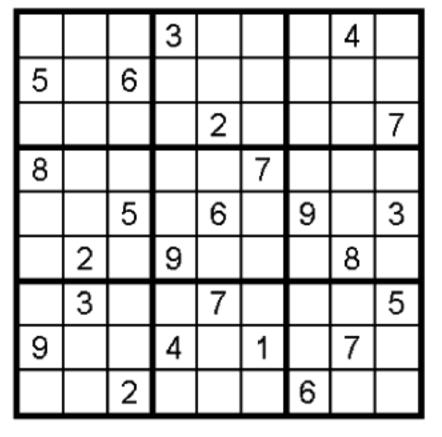

By1907, Ann Marie Reeves Jarvis's daughter, Anna Jarvis, a Philadelphia school teacher set up a national Mother's "Work Day" to raise awareness of poor health conditions asking the legislators and businessmen to create a special day for mothers.

Anna Jarvis's hard work paid off as President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed May 9, 1914, the first official Mother's Day to be celebrated on the second Sunday in May every year. Mother's Day has become a nationally observed holiday in the USA. People initially observed "Mother's Day" by attending church which gradually evolved to sending letters, cards, gifts and flowers. Carnations were introduced by Anna Jarvis, as carnations were her mother's favorite flower. Large vases filled with white carnations were flower. Large vases filled with white carnations were set near the altars at church services. At the end of the service a white carnations was given to each mother.

Mother's Day has now become one of the most popular holidays of the year in the US and has spread across the world. Back here at home in the Tri-Valley area, we have many choices to make Mother's Day a special day for mom! Flowers can be purchased from Napanoch Florists, a new dishwasher from Napanoch Appliance, dinner at White Wolf Restaurant, or Blue Hill Lodge, a box of candy from Matthew's Pharmacy or Peter's Market. What about a picnic with take out sandwiches from James Market in Napanoch? Whatever you do or wherever you go, remember Whatever you do or wherever you go, remember 'home' as the most important, where it all began, with MOM!

tem which increased his risk for this rare type of meningitis. For bacterial meningitis, it is important to know which type of bacteria is causing the meningitis because antibiotics can prevent some types from spreading and infecting other people, reported Dr. Hasbrouck. The contagious forms of bacterial meningitis may be spread from person t person through the exchange of respiratory and throat secretions by close contact.

Dr. Hasbrouck reported that as a precautionary measure 16 persons that wer identified as close contacts of the infected man were given preventive antibiotics. Based on the final laboratory results, preventive antibiotic for close contacts are no longer warranted. Therefore, the Health Department will discontinue their investigation of close contacts.

For more information contact Dr. La Mar Hasbrouck at (845) 340-3009.

Second place was taken by Troy Edwards, a Livingston Manor Senior, who has his sights on a career as a DEC officer. He too, is a hard working, communi-ty minded young adult. He had numerous volunteer efforts, sports programs and summer employment positions in his report. He was the recipient of a $250.00 check to help with some of his expenses.

The event is the annual major fund raiser hosted by the Long Beards for the National Wild Turkey Federation. The local community support was greatly appreciated. The Jeff Bank was a co sponsor and had employees present to present pens and show their sup-port of the Long Beards efforts. There were also several local businesses that donate to the Long Beards throughout the year and help in their efforts to educate women and children in the hunting heritage and the rules and enjoyment of hunting, fishing and conservation. The Long Beards wish to thank all of their very supportive members and volunteers for their friendship and lovalty to them.

Lonely Planet is the story of Jody and Carl, two gay friends played by John Neails and James Sullivan, trying to navigate their way through the troubling times of the late 70s and early 80s. Surrounded by the maps in Jody's map store and a rising death toll, the two men attempt to fight off cynicism and despair with humor and imagination. The play is a testament to the profound value of human friendship in the face of a mysterious plague of disease and the vicious scapegoating that is its social con-

Steven Dietz is the recipient of the PEN U.S.A. Award in Drama, the Kennedy Center Fund for New American Plays Award, the Lila Wallace/Reader's Digest Award, the Yomuiri Shinbun Award for his adaptation of Shusaku Endo's Silence, and the 2007 Edgar Allan Poe Award for Best mystery play. His plays range from the political to the comedic. His articles on new play development have been widely discussed and re-printed.

John Neails returns to Liberty Free Theatre after his highly acclaimed performance in Vaclav Havel's Audience. He was also featured in the theatre's production of Death of Bessie Smith. James Sullivan is making his fifth appearance at LFT, where he is also well remembered for his leading performance Bessie Smith. Among his many performances elsewhere, he received a TANYS for his role as Nick in Over the River and Through the Woods. The play was directed by Paul Austin and features the set design of Alexis Siroc and the lighting of Jon-Jon Thomas.

The production is made possible in part with funds from the 2010 Decentralization Program, a regrant program of the New York State Council on the Arts, administered in Sullivan County by Delaware Valley Arts Alliance.

When she met and started going with Ben Newberg, he didn't like the idea of "his girl being involved with the likes of actors," so she left it all behind her, married Ben, moved to Sullivan County, and started a family. But the theatre bug continued to nibble away at Barbara. She decided to pool her theatrical talents together with Sunna Rasch, who brought along a wealth of stage experience as well, and bring some "culture" to Sullivan County. In 1950, they formed the Sullivan County Dramatic Workshop (SCDW) - which staged its first production - Blithe Spirit - with Barbara playing the role of the saucy spirit, Elvira. Barbara Newberg has remained an active and vital part of the organization all these years, onstage and off as an actress, director, producer and member of the Board of Directors. Sixty years after that first production, the Sullivan County Dramatic Workshop is going strong as the Catskill's longest standing Community Theatre group - providing quality, award-winning productions since 1950.

The SCDW opens its 2010 Season with a true celebration of its 60th Anniversary - Noel Coward's comedy of with a true celebration of its 60th Anniversary - Noel Coward's comedy of "high spirits," Bltihe Spirit at the Rivoli Theatre in South Fallsburg for six per-formances May 7-16. Charles (Tom DelFavero of Livingston Manor) is newly married to straight-laced, Ruth (Ellen Pavloff of Kerhonkson). Via a seance, he accidentally summons the spirit of his first wife, Elvira (Marie DuSault of Washingtonville), who only Charles can see or hear! Believing that Elvira wants to ruin his marriage to Ruth, Charles enlists the services of a wacky Medium, Madame Arcati (Sophia Mahmud of Port Jervis) to exorcise the spirit, but Elvira is not quite ready to go! Under the able direction of Harold Tighe of Kauneonga Lake, the talented cast is rounded out by Sally Gladden of Woodridge, Ann Finneran of Hurleyville and Lauren Bernard of Middletown. Jim Schmidt of Hurleyville is the Technical Director, with Lauren Bernard and Bunny Woloszczak of Hurleyville sharing duties of Stage Manager and Victoria Leighton of Smallwood is the Property Mistress.

Performances of Blithe Spirit hit the boards in the newly restored Nartoff-Wells Auditorium of the Rivoli Theatre, 5243 Main Street (Route 42) South Fallsburg, NY on Friday and Saturday, May 7, 8, 14, 15 at 8:00 pm and Sunday, May 9, 16 at 2:00 pm. DA JIM FARRELL OPENS THE EYES OF BOCES ALTERNATIVE ED STUDENTS

The students at Sullivan County BOCES' Youngsville School had an eye opening discussion with District Attorney Jim Farrell, as he discussed life altering issues like sexting, sexual predators, and gangs.

When asked why he was taking the time to address students, D.A. Farrell stated, "It's about educating and alerting the students about the dangers involved with making poor decisions and the impact practices like sexting and gangs pose for the rest of their lives."

The primary focus of the discussion was on sexting and how the practice is becoming more and more prevalent with the use of cell phones, computers and the internet. Today is no longer the day when you write a letter to a person and it only goes to that person. With a simple push of a button someone can send a message to one person to 100 people and even across the world. Technology has the ability to be good or bad, depending on how it is used. A person's individual choice is the key in determining how technology will affect ones life.

Sexting is the act of sending sexually explicit messages or photographs, primarily between mobile phones. According to recent statistics; 20% of teens are sexting. With that age group 22% are teen girls and 18% are teen boys. This is a practice that is not only limited to teens, 30% of adults have committed a form of sexting at one point or more in their lives. "What people don't realize", stated Farrell, "You have no control over it. Your friend today may be your enemy tomorrow. You have no idea who that person will send the message to or even who has viewed it." A simple joke or gesture could lead to a lifetime of misery for the person who took the picture and sent the message or for the person who received the message. "Sexting creates a lifetime of consequences and you can't take it back," added Farrell.

D.A. Farrell shocked the students when he spoke about the lifetime of consequences sexting could pose on a person convicted of sexting. If a person is charged with the possession of any form of sexting or if an individual took a picture of themselves and sent it to someone. They can be charged as a criminal. If subject of sexting, is a under the age of 18, it is considered child pornography and all individuals involved will be charged as a sexual predator - A title what you will have for the rest of your life.

The day ended in silence as the students watched videos and listened to stories of how sexting impacted the lives of those involved in that simple joke or gesture. "It's all about make good choices," ended

HINCHEY CALLS ON DELAWARE RIVER BASIN COMMISSION TO CON-DUCT CUMULATIVE IMPACT STUDY BEFORE ALLOWING NATURAL GAS EXTRACTION WATER WITHDRAWALS

Congressman Maurice Hinchey (D-NY) today called on the Delaware River Basin Commission to conduct an environmental impact study on the cumulative effects of natural gas extraction water withdrawals. The study, Hinchey argued, should occur before the commission considers any water withdrawal applications.

"With natural gas companies lining up to to with-draw water from the Upper Delaware River Valley for their hydraulic fracturing operations in Pennsylvania, it's important that a cumulative impact analysis be made," Hinchey said. "Over 15 million people rely on the Delaware River Basin for clean drinking water and millions more enjoy its scenic views and recreational offerings - we have to make sure we get this right. While permitting water withdrawals on an individual or incremental basis for a limited number of applications might not threaten the basin's resources, a large volume of applications is expected in the near future and the projected use and diversion of Basin water must be scrutinized in a comprehensive way.

Hinchey continues to be a leading voice in the effort to protect drinking water and the environment from the risks of hydraulic fracturing. In March, the EPA announced that it had initiated a study on the environmental risks of fracking based on legislative language Hinchey authored. Last year, Hinchey, Congresswoman Diana DeGette (D-CO), and several of his colleagues introduced the FRAC ACT --Fracturing Responsibility and Awareness of Chemicals Act, which would close the loophole that exempted hydraulic fracturing from the Safe Drinking Water Act and require the oil and gas industry to disclose the chemicals they use in their hydraulic fracturing processes.

GILLIBRAND URGES USDA TO REGU-LATE 6 DEADLY, UNCHECKED E. COLI STRANDS

Continuing her commitment to keep all families safe from contaminated food, U.S. Senator Kirsten Gillibrand today urged Ú.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Secretary Tom Vilsack to include six additional strands of E. coli as hazardous adulterants that need to be tested by the USDA.

In addition to the most common form of E. coli that is already regulated, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has identified six other strands, known as non-0157 STECs, that are just as hazardous as E. coli and need to be regulated. The CDC estimates that non-0157 STECs cause 36,700 illnesses, 1,100 hospitalizations and 30 deaths in America each year.

"In America, in 2010, it is unconscionable that food is still going straight to our kitchens, school cafeterias and restaurants without being properly tested to ensure its safety," Senator Gillibrand said. "It's spreading too many diseases and costing too many lives. The laws that are meant to keep us safe from hazardous foods are in critical need of updating. We need immediate action to keep our families safe."

E. coli 0157:H7 is by far the most common strain in American beef. But non-0157 STECs are increasingly found in beef imported from other countries, but is never checked for since current law only requires imported ground beef to be checked for E.

coli 0157:H7.

Safe Tables Our Priority (STOP) is leading the petition campaign calling on the USDA to expand the official E. coli classifications to include non-0157 STECs as a hazardous, regulated adulterant, and to regulate all strands of E. coli for all types of beef, not just ground beef or beef intended for ground beef.

Senator Gillibrand's letter to Secretary Vilsack asks for an official response to the two petitions requesting that the USDA include the additional strands of E. coli in their required testing.

AFTER THOUSANDS OF DANGEROUS CRIBS RECALLED, GILLIBRAND URGES CRAIGSLIST TO REMOVE SALE OF SIMPLIC-ITY CRIBS ONLINE

After hundreds of thousands of Graco and Simplicity baby cribs were recalled from store shelves due to deadly defects, U.S. Senator Kirsten Gillibrand urged Craigslist to immediately remove online listings of dangerous Simplicity drop-side cribs currently for sale.

Senator Gillibrand said, "The Simplicity cribs, which have trapped and suffocated infants, are all too easy to purchase online. We must immediately stop these harmful products from reaching any more nursery rooms, homes, and day care centers.

In a letter to Craigslist CEO Jim Buckmaster,

Senator Gillibrand wrote, "Too many babies have already died because the numerous pieces associated with defective cribs become dislodged or break. As one of the leading used furniture sales organizations in the nation, I urge you to obey the law and stop allowing people to sell recalled drop-side cribs on your website and to remain vigilant in the future in removing similar damaged products. Not only are these cribs dangerous, but after they have been used, the parts are even more susceptible to breaking and entrapping babies."

Despite last week's announcement that WalMart, Target, and Babies R Us are recalling all full-sized cribs made by Simplicity, Inc. and a previous announcement made last year on the recall of Simplicity drop-side cribs, Craigslist still has three sale listings on its website of used Simplicity cribs. The resale of recalled cribs is against the law.

Simplicity is now out of business after a one-year old boy was trapped between the mattress and frame in 2008. Since 2005, Simplicity cribs have been linked to 13 infant injuries. These defected products continue to exist in the second-hand market and may still be in use by parents who are unaware of the recalls.

Yesterday, the Consumer Product Safety Commission announced recall of all full-sized Simplicity cribs with tubular metal mattress-support frames. The bendable and detachable frames can cause the mattress to collapse and potentially trap and suffocate a toddler

AGRICULTUR UNDER SECRETARY TONSAGER ANNOUNCES AVAILIBILITY OF FUNDS TO IMPROVE PUBLIC DIGI-TELEVISION TRANSMISSION QUALITY IN RURAL AREAS

Agriculture Under Secretary for Rural Development Dallas Tonsager today announced that applications are being accepted for grants to help rural public television stations purchase digital broadcasting equipment.

Some rural public television licensees have yet to complete a full digital transition of their stations. For example, Northern Michigan University, licensee of WNMU in Marquette, received USDA funding recently to convert studio production control facilities from analog to digital and to purchase remote production equipment to better serve its audience in Michigan's Upper Peninsula and in Northeast Wisconsin.

Pioneer Public Television in Minnesota received funding to upgrade a translator in Fergus Falls to enable viewers in a wide rural area to receive multiple program streams. Funding under the grant program can be used to acquire, lease, and/or install facilities and software necessary to the digital transition. The amount of funding available is $4.5 million.

Applications are due June 24, 2010. More information on how to apply for a USDA Public Television Transition Grant is available at www.usda.gov/rus/telecom/index.htm or from the Federal Register notice http://edocket.access.gpo.gov/2010/pdf/2010-

Public television stations which serve rural areas are eligible for Public Television Station Digital Transition Grants. A public television station is a noncommercial educational television broadcast station that is qualified for Community Service Grants by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting under section 396(k) of the Communications Act of 1934. Individuals are not eligible for Public Television Station Digital Transition Grant Program financial assistance directly.

USDA Rural Development administers and manages more than 40 housing, business, and community infrastructure and facility programs through a network of 6,100 employees located in 500 national, state and local offices. These programs are designed to improve the economic stability of rural communities, businesses, residents, farmers and ranchers, and improve the quality of life in rural America. Rural Development has an existing portfolio of more than $132 billion in loans and loan guarantees. http://www.rurdev.usda.gov

TIGHT LINES - Bob Skow A CRAPPIE DAY!

Local farm ponds can yield some surprising catches of fish if you know what to use and when to fish for them. April and May are good times to really score on Crappie and Yellow Perch. This is the time that these fish are spawning and they will give you a lot of action and boy do they taste good right out of the frying pan.

To catch them, all you need is your ultra light frout rod spooled up with 4 pound test line and a 1/8th oz. safety pin spinner. The Johnson Lure Company makes a lure called the Beetle Spin in 3 sizes. You can get them in Liberty Trading Post (see Johnny Munoz; he'll be glad to help you.)

Both Crappie and Yellow Perch bite these small lures with vigor, so if you find a pond that has either of these fish in it, bring your cooler. Just cast out and give the lure a small tug now and then while you are reeling in - AND - reel as slow as you can without getting hung up on the bottom. Search around the pond with your casting until you catch one and fish right there because the fish will be concentrated together.

The state limit is 25 fish for Crappie and 50 for Yellow Perch. There is also a 9 inch size limit for Crappie.

Don't be surprised if you hook into the occasional Largemouth Bass while fishing for these panfish. Some of them can be quite large so be prepared and hold on . Remember all Largemouth Bass must be returned to the water as the season is closed until the third Saturday in June.

As always - Have Fun and Tight Lines--Bob

ED. NOTES: Just checked with Sundown Camp and Bait Shop in Sundown, and hear they have the "Beetle Spin" lures.

SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION DIS-TRICT BASS & MINNOW STOCKING PROGRAM

The Sullivan County Soil & Water Conservation District is having their Annual Bass & Minnow Fish Stocking Program. If your pond seems to have excessive vegetation you may want to consider grass carp or barley straw.

If you are interested in stocking your pond with Largemouth Bass Fathead Minnows or Grass Carp,

"While we continue to gather all the relevant information, one thing is certain: more homeland security dollars are critical to prevent the worst case scenario - a dirty bomb or nuclear attack on our city. I will continue to work with my colleagues in Congress to bring these resources to bear."

Earlier this week, Senator Gillibrand and Representative Peter T. King (D-NY), Ranking Member of the Committee on Homeland Security, contacted House and Senate appropriators urging them in a joint letter to include $20 million in the FY 2011 DHS appropriations bill for the continuation and expansion of the Securing the Cities Initiative, a highly successful partnership among federal, state and local authorities to prevent nuclear and radiological terrorism through a ring of detection devices in and around the New York metropolitan area. In FY 2010, Congress appropriated $20 million.

Denning Democrats

On the Local & National Scene:

Next meeting of the Ulster County Democratic Women-Monday, May 10, 2010 at Rosendale Community Center Rt 32 Rosendale, NY 7:00 pm, and on May 15, 2010. The Ulster County Democratic Women are holding a Campaign Workshop, "The Mechanics of Winning." If you are running for office this should not to be missed.

Ulster County Democratic Chairman Julian Schreibman, introduced our New Democratic Slate for 2010, and Charles King, Executive Director of the New York State Democratic Committee, made a rousing speech citing the accomplishments of the new slate. Michael P. Hein Ulster County Executive, and Elliott Auerbach, Ulster County Comptroller have saved Ulster residents many dollars with their "watchdog" attitudes, and actions. Paul Van Blarcum, Ulster County Sheriff; Christopher St. Lawrence, Lieutenant Governor, Thomas Dinapoli, Comptroller of New York; Andrew Cuomo, Attorney General of New York; Kevin Cahill, New York State Assembly, 101st AD; Frank Skartados, New York State Assembly, 100th AD; Lawrence Delarose, New York State Senate, 39th SD; Harley Doles, New York State Senate, 39th SD; Maurice Hinchey, House of Representatives, NY 22nd Congressional District; Charles Schumer, United States Senate; Kirsten Gillibrand, United States Senate; Lawrence Ball, Kingston City Court Judge,

This is an interesting and well-rounded slate; However, it is my belief, from the stirring of inside sources, that Andrew Cuomo will run for Governor, leaving open the Attorney General seat for a host of candidates; led by Eric R. Dinallo, Kathleen Rice, John P. ("Sean") Coffey, and Richard Brodsky. Sullivan County Legislator Dave Sager will be running for State Senate. Sager stated, "Our current state senator is part of the problem," Sager said, "He is behind on flood mitigation, he is wrong on gas drilling and he has done nothing on ethics reform." Mother, Mother, You heard my call, When no one was listening, No one at all, You knew my needs through the day and the night Mother, Mother, I cannot forget your love, Your love of giving of all you possess To nourish my needs plus your loving caress Your love of waking in the middle of night, Before, I screamed with hunger discomfort or fright, All this was before I knew I needed you Mother, Mother, how can I forget your love. I cannot, Happy Mothers Day!
